Cookie Notice

This Cookie Notice explains how we use Cookies on our website. This Cookie Notice also provides you with information on how to opt out of the cookies being used. Further information about our use of cookies can be found in our Data Protection Statement here.

What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the website. Cookies help us to remember things about your visit to our website, such as your preferred language and other choices/settings and to generally make the site easier for you to use. They may also be used to deliver advertisements that are relevant to you.

What Types of Cookies Do We Use and Why?

We use the following Cookies on this Website:

Cookie	Purpose
The “Cookie” Cookie	This cookie is used to remember a user’s choice about cookies on greenane.ie . Where users have previously indicated a preference, that user’s preference will be stored in this cookie
Functional Cookie	These cookies are required in order to ensure the website functions properly. These cookies are session cookies which means they are erased when the user closes the web browser. Session cookies do not collect information from the user’s computer and they typically store information in the form of a session identification that does not personally identify the user. You can control these cookies from your browser settings using the reject all cookies settings.
Web Statistics Cookie	These are cookies gather analytics on the usage of our website including distinguishing unique users, remembering the number and time of previous visits, remembering traffic source information and determining the start and end of a session
Third Party Cookie	Third Party Cookies are cookies set by a website other than the website you are visiting – these cookies are generally set as a result of some embedded content such as a video, a social media share or a like button.

You can adjust your browser settings to decline cookies or alert you when a website is attempting to place a cookie on your computer.

Managing Cookies

Within your browser you can choose whether you wish to accept cookies on all websites or not. Different browsers have different settings available to you. Below we have provided links to popular browsers on how to access these settings. Generally, your browser will offer the choice to accept, refuse or delete cookies at all times, or those from providers that website owners use (“Third Party Cookies”), or those from specific websites:
